Wallabies Go Wild

As you may be aware, Kewaique have made a pledge to donate £1000 to Hospice Isle of Man. The school council have been busy fund raising and running competitions to raise this amount. The latest competition saw entries invited to enter a design that will be painted on a wallaby sculpture. This will then feature as part of the collection of Wallaby sculptures and be displayed in venues for the general public to view across the island.

All the entries are on display in the school and were judged by the staff. Six made it through to the final. The winning entry was judged by our Chair of Governors,

Mrs Roberts, following an anonymous process.

To take a good look at the finalists and winning entry, please visit our school blog.

Investing in Children Award

Kewaique School have applied for the Investing in Children award. To achieve this award, schools must prove they not only listen to, but act on, pupils' initiatives.

Both previous and current School Councils have been working very hard to gather and implement ideas about how to make their school even better. The outcome of the award will be announced in the coming weeks.

Daffodils

Many of the daffodils issued on behalf of Douglas Borough Council are beginning to flower. If your child would like their daffodil judged by the competition organisers, please bring it to school on the morning of Thursday 14th March. All entries should have pots that are decorated, will need to be clearly named and placed in the QLR room. The winners will be published on the school blog

Rock your Socks

Children are invited to wear odd socks on Thursday 21st March to mark World Down Syndrome day. This is to raise awareness, no donation necessary.
